SPEAKER'S AND SYNOPSIS

Mr. Vincent Shi ReMark International / Society of Actuaries

Topic: Health & Wellness for insurance, trends and case study

The days of reactionary insurance are long gone. Customers expect solutions that help them stay healthy. In recent years, more and more leading insurers have committed to offering an effective Health & Wellness program. In this session, we look at the customers' opinions regarding health & wellness programs for insurance as well as some recent case study in Asia.

Ms. Huey Fang Chen

Swiss Re

Topic: Insurance Connect with Personal Health & Wellness

APAC Health & Wellness (H&W) Landscape in the insurance industry, application of H&W measurement on insurance pricing and underwriting, consumers preference on H&W offerings from insurance in different markets in APAC.

Mr. Pang Chye

Milliman

Topic: Practical Application of Data Analytics to Understand Medical Claims Behaviour

This presentation intends to provide an overview of how data analytics is being applied to model and understand the behaviour of policyholders when using healthcare and hospitals/doctors when providing care. This impacts not only how claims are managed but also how products are designed and priced. The speaker will include examples from Thailand, Southeast Asia and other markets.

Mr. Nick van der Nest

Munich Re

Topic: Health and Wellness schemes: The future to underwriting transformation?

In this presentation we will discuss how the smart use of data emerging from health and wellness schemes can be applied to drive future underwriting and general business transformation. Additional reference will be made to specific research Munich Re has conducted into the impact of physical activity, heart rate and sleep on long term mortality and morbidity.
