Theme

The rise of the actuarial profession can be traced back to the late 17th century! For the past 200+ years, actuaries have been the fundamental backbone and critical stakeholder in the operational and reporting functions of business covering the insurance, enterprise risk management, regulatory framework and financial industry. However, the APAC market is extremely dynamic and constantly evolving. There are much hot topics and emerging trends to cover at this annual conference.

The JRS2022 will give APAC practitioners the opportunity to gather, gain insights and discuss the theme amongst the leading experts, fellow actuaries and senior executives in the region. To be sustainable in the new insurance ecosystem, the profession needs to be versatile and proficient in all business aspects. Hence, the theme this year is “Sustainability - the ecosystem for the Insurance Industry”.

Call for Submission

We are calling for experts from all insurance and financial background to discuss the theme and share insights of their work with the APAC audience at the Regional Program on 20 Sep.

All selected speakers will be required to complete a Speaker Acknowledgement and Release Form. The presentations/papers and video records may be published on the organisers and supporting organisations' websites and made available to all participants of the JRS.

If you are interested to be one of the presenters at this APAC event, please submit the following details to ASHK jrs@actuaries.org.hk by 22 May 2022.
